Grant Purpose	Students will explore an estuary while gaining an understanding of habitats and wildlife that live there. They will learn what a watershed is and the importance of protecting it. They will learn about the 3 kinds of mangroves and will observe the different creatures that live among the mangroves. They will study up close and personal a fiddler crab (Uca sp.) and discover the different plants found nearby. The objectives of the grant will meet the Florida State Standards for K and 1st.
Grant Activities	a. Crab Inquiry: Students will understand that crabs are wildlife and wildlife comes in a variety of forms – small to large. Students will understand that this place is home to wildlife, including crabs. Students will learn about crab anatomy and animal adaptations. Students are responsible for their actions affecting this wildlife. b. Shoreline Exploration: Students will learn what an estuary is, understand the importance of an estuary and observe the unique plants and animals found in and around.
Grant Budget Items	The cost of the field trip includes buses to and from the field trip location. It also includes the cost of guides from Around the Bend Nature Tours to lead the field trip.
After Grant Plans	The students will create a post trip crab book – students list 5 facts they learned about crabs and their habitat. They will share this with their families. Field trip photos will be shared on the school website.
