Grant Purpose	Goals for the project "Economic Foundations: Critical Thinking in Numbers" are - Understanding of economic relationships and responsibilities - Knowledge of terms and acquisition of vocabulary to express understanding. - Discernment between wants and needs. - Appreciation of fiscal correlations. - Motivation for life long capital involvement.
Grant Activities	Students will actively manage finances, make critical economical decisions for personal and commercial budgets, and work collaboratively in a micro economy for the nine months of this academic year. A culminating experience at Jr. Achievement Biztown integrates all skills as students run a town from its businesses to its public works, and media outlets.
Grant Budget Items	The grant would fund materials used to teach economics to grade level expectations. In addition the grant would fund a culminating experience, admission and transportation, at Jr. Achievement's Biztown where students run a micro economy.
After Grant Plans	Studies in math will continue to utilize skills learned through the economics unit and students will use knowledge and experiences throughout a lifetime.
